

Rev. Liz Moody

I began my career as a primary school teacher and taught in Oxfordshire and London for about 5 years. I had a brief spell in community theatre and theatre in education before teaching in a secondary school in Wembley, working with children with special educational needs and teaching GCSE RE. In 2002 I was ordained and served in churches in the West London area until 2016 when my husband (Jeff Payne) and I moved to become co-rectors here. In 2017 I became a foundation governor. It is an honour to be able to serve with fellow governors in supporting the school and its wonderful staff and children to fulfil their potential. Foundation governors also have a responsibility to support the Christian ethos of the school, and ensure the children have opportunities to explore faith for themselves - something I am enthusiastic about.
